The main suggestions given in the meeting to check crimes in the National Capital Territory of Delhi and the action taken thereon are indicated below:

Suggestion—Zonal Integrated Police Net (ZIPNET) can work as a hub for sharing information, data, photographs etc. This concept of exchange of information can, in the coming year, be further extended to videoconferencing.

Action Taken—Delhi Police has already started feeding the information relating to the following subjects:

(i) Descriptiion of un-identified dead bodies to match with missing persons;

(ii) Sharing of information regarding day-to-day crimes reported;

(iii) Accessibility to Crime and Criminal Databases of each other;

(iv) Press releases relating to crime having inter-State ramifications;

(v) Information about prevailing crime trend among cities/States;

(vi) Exchange of dossiers of criminals electronically without losing time and sharing of daily crime bulletin;

(vii) Flashing of information and description of suspect;

(viii) Flashing of portraits of suspects; and

(ix) Flashing of information about unclaimed and stolen vehicles.

Extension of videoconferencing in the coming years depends on examination of its technical and economical feasibility.

Suggestion—Development of technology and communication systems should be improved, as the criminals are not restricted to geographical boundaries.

Action Taken—A number of steps have been taken to strengthened the communication network within the National Capital Region including a direct wireless link provided to all the District Control Rooms of neighbouring States where any information of significance is transmitted immediately.

Suggestion— The meeting of Inter-State Co-ordination Committee should be followed up by meetings between officers of Delhi and the neighbouring States at more functional level.

Action Taken— Meetings with neighbouring States are being organized regularly. Delhi Police is working as a Secretariat to organize such meetings. Besides meetings held under the chairmanship of Lt. Governor of Delhi, meetings are also held at the level of (i) Commissioner of Police where Inspector Generals of Police and other senior officers of the neighbouring States participate, and (ii) at the level of District Deputy Commissioners of Police with their counterparts in the neighbouring States.

Suggestion— There is a need to set up an effective exchange system with the use of advance technology.

Action Taken— Delhi Police is already cooperating with neighbouring States and providing all significant intelligence inputs to them.Compact Discs (CDs) containing information relating to crimes and criminals are regularly sent to the neighbouring States.

Suggestion— As the criminals were getting better organized, it had become imperative to combine resources and to carry out joint operations to make policing more effective.

Action Taken— Delhi Police is already organizing joint operations with the police force of neighbouring States. A number of such operations have been carried out in the past.

Suggestion— Officers of Intelligence Bureau and Narcotics Control Bureau may be associated in the meetings of the inter-State Co-ordination Committee.

Action Taken— Officers of Intelligence Bureau and Narcotics Control Bureau are consulted as and when necessary.

Suggestion— There was an increase in motor vehicle thefts, highway robberies, snatchings etc. in which organized gangs were involved. Therefore, there was a need for sharing information and conducting joint operations to identify these gangs. Co-ordination meetings may be organized at the district level also.

Action Taken— Delhi Police is sharing information about crime and criminals, organizing joint operations and holding co-ordination meetings at district level.

Suggestion—There was a need of computerization of Transport Department records, in view of the increase of motor vehicle thefts.

Action Taken—Records of Transport Department have already been computerized. Delhi Police is having its own database containing information regarding ownership and other details which are provided to all police forces as and when required.

Suggestion—The ZIPNET has vast potential and it can also be used for chatting, exchange of photographs etc. and senior police officers are required to take personal interest in its optimum utilization
